FROM INCOME TO FREEDOM

Understand where this course can help.

Financial clarity starts with an honest overview: what comes in, which obligations exist and how much room remains for future decisions? From this foundation, the course develops rules that reflect personal goals and limits.

The planned English edition adapts the existing German course. It covers liquidity, capacity for risk, diversification and due diligence, leading towards a documented approach to asset allocation, review and rebalancing. It teaches a decision process rather than promising returns. English access is not yet available; pre-reservation is free and non-binding.

Who the learning path is designed for

- Independent professionals and business owners who want to organise income and financial obligations.
- People who want to consider reserves, risks and long-term goals together.
- Learners who want to understand portfolio principles and assess offers more critically.

Typical starting situations

- Income, reserves and long-term capital are not clearly separated.
- Financial decisions follow individual offers rather than documented rules.

- Risks, costs and the actual accessibility of capital are difficult to compare.

What you can work towards

- A structured overview of your position, goals and liquidity needs.
- A personal framework for risk limits and assessing offers.
- An initial plan for asset allocation, contributions and rebalancing.
- A 12-month plan with review dates and clear documentation.

FROM INCOME TO FREEDOM

Clear phases for practical progress.

These phases summarise the publicly presented course content. Each connects a clear focus with concrete tasks.

DAYS 1-7

Financial foundations

Map your current position and define goals and personal decision rules.

- Organise income, spending, commitments and assets
- Clarify reserves, time horizons and capacity for risk
- Write a personal financial policy

DAYS 8-15

Portfolio architecture

Understand the roles of major asset classes and how they interact.

- Understand return, risk, correlation and diversification
- Account for costs and real access to capital
- Compare equities, defensive assets and property thoughtfully

DAYS 16-23

Assets and due diligence

Distinguish the possible roles, risks and checks associated with different offers.

- Assess real assets, private markets and high-risk components
- Check business models, custody, regulation and warning signs
- Develop position limits and a strategic target allocation

DAYS 24-30

Implementation and review

Connect your rules into a plan you can review consistently.

- Plan contributions and rule-based rebalancing
- Address behavioural errors, security and documentation
- Use qualified specialists when needed and create a 12-month plan

01 Learn step by step

After activation, day 1 is available immediately. Further lessons are released daily in a clear sequence.

02 Work with the material

Assignments, templates and AI prompts support your own implementation. Progress tracking and notes help you keep an overview.

03 Return to what matters

Each course profile lists its access period. The current offers are designed as one-time products without automatic subscription renewal.

This language edition is planned. Pre-reservation is free, non-binding and is not a purchase. Final scope and availability will be communicated before a later buying decision.

TURNING EXPERIENCE INTO USABLE STRUCTURES

Technical thinking. Practical implementation.

Lukas Günther Teissl

Academy creator · IT, AI & automation

I develop digital systems and connect technical implementation with clear, understandable processes.

My courses apply that way of working to your own projects: understand the task, build a clear structure, review decisions and organise recurring work. The Academy guides you through this process while leaving responsibility for your own decisions with you.

What guides my approach to teaching

- A clear connection between each topic and a practical task.
- Traceable decisions and realistic expectations.
- Technology supporting a deliberate, responsible working process.

MAKE AN INFORMED DECISION

The important answers.

Are the free PDFs the complete courses?

No. They are public course introductions. Paid lessons, workbooks and protected materials remain in the Academy.

How do I pay for a course and how long is access available?

You purchase your chosen course with a one-time payment, with no recurring membership fees. Each course profile lists its duration, lesson count and access period. The Academy confirms the current terms before purchase.

Do I have to purchase both courses?

No. Each learning path is a separate offer. Begin with the course that best addresses your current task.

How does purchasing work?

For available editions, the linked Academy page shows the current price and payment route. After payment, access is checked and activated, and the access information is sent to you.

Is my chosen language edition available now?

Check the availability information for each course. A free pre-reservation is not a purchase. The price, production schedule and final scope of a future edition will be communicated before a later buying decision.

Can I expect a particular income or investment return?

The courses provide general education and structured ways of working. Your starting situation and implementation affect possible results. No particular income, return or business outcome is guaranteed.

General educational content. No individual investment, legal or tax advice. Consider decisions in the context of your situation and consult qualified professionals where appropriate.

PUT KNOWLEDGE INTO MOTION

Your next step begins with a clear decision.

Choose the learning path that matches the task in front of you. Review the content, language availability and offer in the Academy, then decide how you want to approach your next steps.
